“ Bryan and I met in the early 90s when we were just kids, we had so many good times, but the one memory that stands out in my mind, is when we went to see Poison, and Warrant in Tulsa, we were running a little late and Bryan was the driver in his car, James Cooper, Adam Christy, Ramona Cooper Bray and I were his passengers, Several other friends were in cars ahead of us, Bryan not wanting to lose our friends ahead of us, decided he was risking the yellow light and hitting the gas lol, as soon as he hit the gas that yellow light turned red, and he got some wide eyed expressions from a couple of us, but he got us there safely and just in time for the concert. Although he done his best driving to keep us with our friends, as soon as we all got out of the vehicles we were riding in, and in the gate of the concert, we were not all able to keep up with all our friends, but Bryan, Jamie, a friend of theirs (whom I have forgotten the name of) , and I were together through out the concert, we had an awesome time and we had a lot of good times after, I'm glad Bryan was my friend, we will see one another again. R.I.P Bryan you're with your mom again.
