“ Dale became my father in law years ago when I married his son Glen. Although that didn't end well, I never stopped being family and Dale never stopped being my dad. He was a good man and an amazing human being. Dale always carried himself with dignity and class. He shared his love, his humor, and his just all out goodness to every one he met. He meant the world to me. My world isn't quite as good as it used to be. Dad you will be missed! I love you!
