“ I met Danny when I transferred to Stigler grade school in the sixth grade. We seemed to hit it off right away. His dad was driving a truck at the time hauling gravel to the Eufaula Dam construction site. Danny would come to work with his dad on Saturdays and his dad would let him off at my parents home at Sandridge, which was along the haul road. We would play for a couple of hours and there by the side of the road and in our yard. We had a lot of fun during those Saturdays. I reconnected with Danny via e-mail some years ago but we lost contact when his computer went on the blink. We visited via phone some after that but ultimately lost contact again. Danny was one who made me feel welcome when I came to school at Stigler and I never forgot that. He was one of the "Good Guys", in my book.
