“ It was truly a treat to visit you all at the mountain top. I had share many breakfast meals with him and his wife. So many times my stories would be funny, but his would always manage to tell me a little something about his place in the woods.

This last time he prepared a cup of coffee for me instead of me serving him and he told me that right there by the window looking at the backyard, there used to be a round table where he sat down early in the morning drinking his coffee and enjoy looking at the deer come close to the house, looking for something to eat or whatever.

I'm following my faith tradition in the passing of a beloved family member, and offering a 9 day novena. May he rest in peace and eternal light shine upon him.
