Gayle was beloved by her family and friends. She had a true servant's heart.

She faithfully attended church and followed Jesus her whole life, and led many in faith, including her family. She was a long-time member of First Baptist Church in Keota, Oklahoma, where she served as church treasurer and pianist for many years. She was also very involved in children's ministry, bible studies, and providing for others. She was often first to volunteer to bring food to any event, and her food was legendary. She was known as an excellent cook, baker, and candy maker. Gayle was an exemplary farmer's wife, and she happily filled the roles of bookkeeper, farm hand, and cattle caretaker. She was an excellent seamstress, sewing clothes for her children when they were younger, and sewing quilts and other keepsakes as she got older. Gardening was something she looked forward to each year, and she was often found putting away vegetables and fruit, which she then gladly shared with family and friends. One of her greatest joys in life was her family, she loved hearing from daughters and granddaughters and was so proud of each of them. Great grandchildren were an absolute delight, and she loved watching them and getting to know them. Gayle left a legacy of love and life through her family and her service, she will be missed so much, but we rejoice in her heavenly home.

“ I am so sorry to hear about Mrs. Roberson. I remember her being a VBS teacher when I went one year at the First Baptist Church in Keota. Her and Tommy Joe are some of the nicest people you could ever meet. My thoughts and prayers go out to Gayle's family and friends.
