“ She loved her some Aaron Tippin and Randy Travis. She would blast the stereo so loud. Lol.. the walks to the store and trips to the lake.. her and I were once close. Life happened and our paths went in different directions. I know she has been not well and I also believe that where she is now, she is happier and in no pain. My heart goes out to her children. With that said, I'm truly sorry for your loss guys. I mean that and I will keep you all in my prayers. (You got to stand for something or you'll fall for anything💜) that's my memory of this beautiful lady. Carry on

“ I will always remember her for the games we played online and the weather updates she would send me warning me about the weather when it got bad. She loved her family dearly, and I know she will be missed.
