“ I am his granddaughter, I just wanted to share how special he was. I have so many memories but a few really stick out for me, having Christmas when I was little at his house and singing Christmas songs, he was the first one to show me how to use a gun lol. And show me had to skin a deer of course it took me a while after that to eat one again. My biggest memory was church and church camp they took me every year. I also remember the sleep overs at there place with the window up and the fans on I will never forget these and there are so many more. I will miss you so very much grandpa ! I love and cherish you always ! Your granddaughter, Melissa

“ My was my mentor. My protector, my provider, my friend, my hero. He was the best dad a girl could ever ask for. He taught me the important things in life and most importantly, he taught me about God. He loved life, his family and his God. I will miss you every day, and love you always!! Your favorite girl!!
