“ My name is Lance Beene & Jeff was like a brother of mine. We always had too much fun together. We would work on our chevys for days and nights on in. Jeff was always the guy that would listen to you when you were having a rough day, he could always somehow relate to anything. Jeff definitely had the gift of gab. We would agree on most things and from time to time disagree but at the end of the day we were always stuck with each other. Jeff always let it be known he was my brother and always had my back no matter how bad the situation. Jeff I'm going to miss you man, save a seat for me in the Chevy.
