“ I remember the time when we lived in the Couch house just across the pasture from Uncle Stan and Aunt Judy's house. Teresa and I would ride dirt bikes with Lil Stan and Brad. We so so invincible thinking we could jump the creek banks with 3 on the back of that little bike. Uncle Stan would just stand there and laugh at us. You know what he was thinking. He was thinking, at any moment the one riding on the very back ( #3) was not the sharpest tool in the tool shed. Funny thing is we all took turns riding on the back.
