“ I sure do miss her. I can remember when grandma and her would play games and I would just sit there listening to them telling their stories about how things were in their day. Oh how I miss everything from when I was younger and how Aunt Viola and grandpa would argue about anything and everything just to aggravated one another it was just how we were but we were a great big happy family and I couldn't have asked for a better family because they were perfect for me and in my eyes they were great!!!!

“ When I was younger all my aunts and my grandma would get together and play card games for hours and she was always right there with them 🍷 Kameisha and I would go over and play with her cats and she would just sit with us and sing for! She would always try to teach us how to crochet but we never quite cought on but she never would give up on us!
