“ This Was the love of my life! Her absence has totally devastated my existence. We lived for each other. We only had each other for the last ten years of her life. We had no family interactions during that ten years. What we did was totally without family involvement We loved everyone dearly but for some reason no onebever came around. All I can say is it wasnt anything that Wanda did. Maybe I was the problem. If I was I truly apologize fo whatever it was that I did. All I can say is you missed out on the most wonderful persons company by not visiting my Wonderful Wanda
